

Call for External Collaborator – Part-time Regional Web Editor for ILO Africa web content, Regional Office for Africa

International Labour Organization (ILO)

Job details

Posted Date	Expire Date	Category	Location
Today	Apr, 20	Ict/technology/computers	Multiple Locations
Type	Salary	Education	Experience
Full Time	---	Unspecified	Unspecified

Job description

Description

Dear Bidder, The International Labour Office (ILO) is looking for an individual to undertake work as an External Collaborator, providing regional web editorial support from 1 May to 31 December 2026 at approximately one day per week. Below is a summary of the work to be performed: The collaborator will review, edit, format, upload and quality-check articles for publication on the ILO website from Country Offices and projects in Africa. The role will help reduce backlogs of pending articles, support offices with limited communication capacity, and ensure that published content complies with ILO web, editorial and accessibility standards. The collaborator will also help strengthen the quality and impact focus of regional web content in line with the Regional Communications Strategy for Africa 2026-2027. The assignment is home-based and no travel is foreseen.

Skills and qualifications

The collaborator will review, edit, format, upload and quality-check articles for publication on the ILO website from Country Offices and projects in Africa.

How to apply

If you are interested, please express interest and follow the instructions attached to consult the detailed terms of reference and other relevant information in the ILO e-sourcing platform. Please submit your proposal before the specified deadline. Thank you.

↗ Apply on -> https://www.ungm.org/Public/Notice/297443